2009 Yearbook Theme ideas

The lazy days of summer were over. Everyone was dreading going back to school. The freshmen had a hard time finding their classes. The sophomores felt like they had an advantage knowing where to go. The juniors prepared and the seniors were excited about their last first day of school. With a new principal and staff, students didn't know what to expect. They soon learned that the rules would be stricter. Students started daydreaming about those days back when they had fewer rules to worry about. The students soon got into the new routine of their homecoming dates, worrying about football games and choosing which clubs to be in. As it got further into the school year, students started looking forward more and more to those sunny days back when it was warm and they could just sit and relax.

Summertime

Each year when that final bell rings on the last day of school, students can't wait to get out of Burke and celebrate the start of the summer season. The summer of 08' was not any different with many Burke students getting out of Omaha, too!

About mid-June, the College World Series comes to town. After hearing that we would be keeping it in Omaha for another 30 years, students were as excited as ever this year. "I love going to games! During the day I chilled down there with friends between, before, and after games. I usually hang out down there for the two weeks that it's in town," said Chris Bremer (12) about the CWS.

Many Burke students don't get the luxury of just hanging out in the summer and sleeping in until noon. Most sports had summer conditioning and students were expected to come back to school and work hard for the coming year.

Some students have to spend their summers working away. There are many popular summer jobs, one of the most popular is lifeguarding. Nate Thue (11) said, "Being a swimmer for Burke helped me get the job, and it's a nice way to stay in shape for swim season."

Friday game night was always a great way to begin the weekend. These nights ranged from the classic "Black Out" and "White Out" to student favorites like Western night. This year our Bulldogs had a game on Halloween, so everyone dressed up in costumes for the game.

Weekends were a great time for students to relax and get away from school work. Brianna Lovett (12) said, "I look forward to weekends because of football games and not having to wake up early."

Weekends were not just about partying and being lazy. A lot of people had jobs. Allie Humphrey (12) worked at New York Burrito. She typically worked fifteen hours a week.

Enrique Guzman (10) rocks on his guitar as he plays with his band, Tenaidea. They played at the Roxbury, Sokol Underground and the Rock.

There were always those teachers who gave hours of homework every weekend. Most students said they put off doing their homework until Sunday night. Procrastination led to fun times on the weekends, but late Sunday night cram sessions!

Weekends

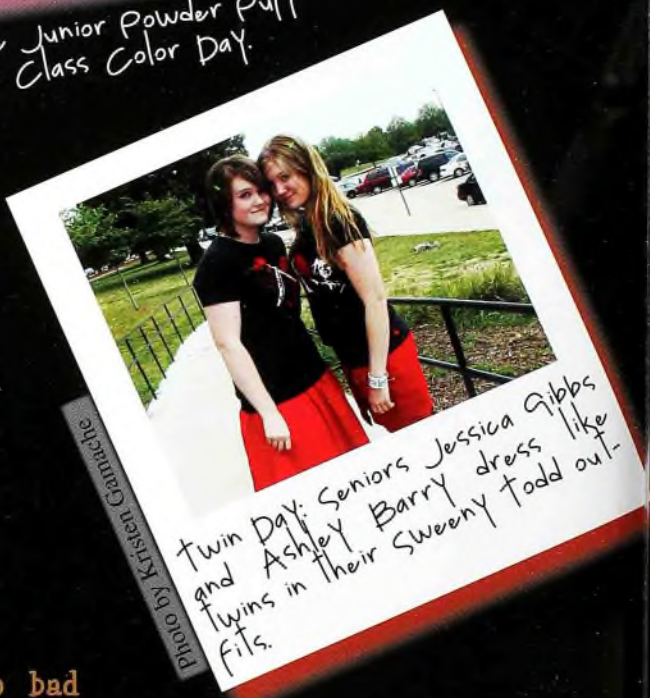

Spirit Week

by KRISTEN CAMACH

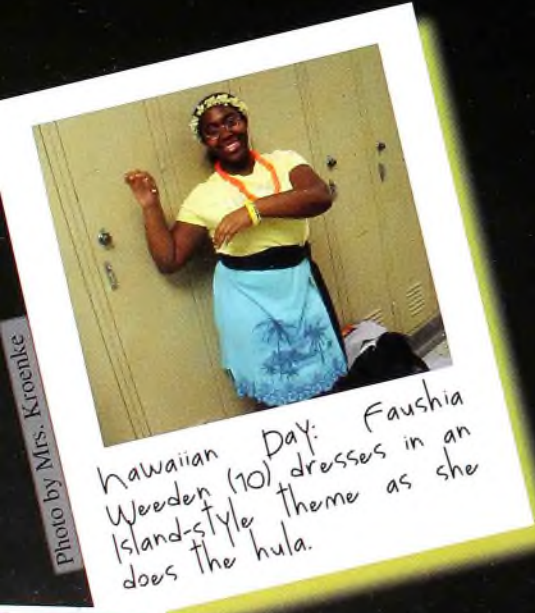

Senior Powder Puff (left) and the Junior Powder Puff (right) dress in matching tees on Class Color Day.

Spirit Week - The halls of Burke were filled with school spirit. "Clash Day was styling! We got to wear what we wanted without getting in trouble, like slippers and pajamas," exclaimed Alex Eaton (9). The week consisted of Blast From The Past on Monday, Clash Day on Tuesday, Twins Day on Wednesday, Hawaiian Day (to stick with the Homecoming theme) on Thursday, and the traditional Class Color Day on Friday.

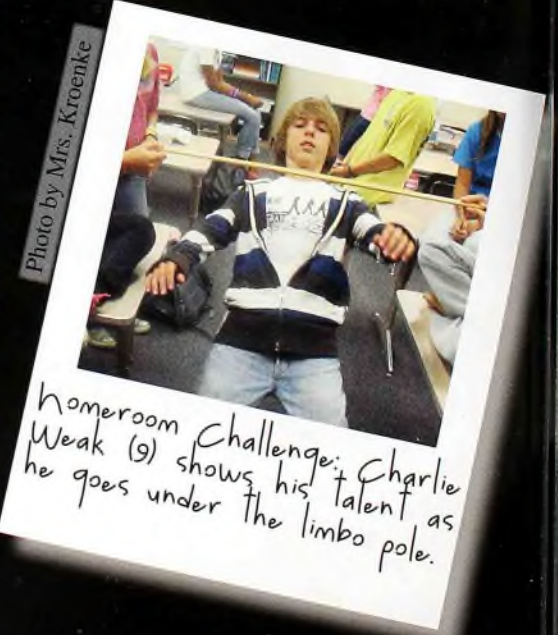

Twin Day: Seniors Jessica Gibbs and Ashley Barry dress like Todd out-fits.

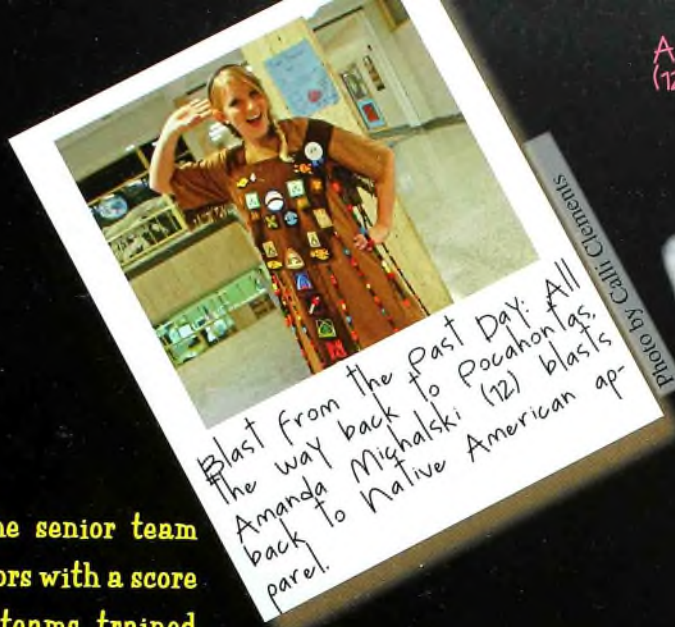

Hawaiian Day: Faushia Weeden (10) dresses in an island-style theme as she does the hula.

Pep Rally - Due to bad weather, the pep rally had to be pushed back to the week after spirit week. That didn't keep anyone from having their school spirit during the Homecoming game or at the pep rally. "Everyone had school spirit. It's a great way to top off spirit week even if it was a week later this year," said Ben Tolliver (10).

Homeroom Challenge: Charlie Weak (9) shows his talent as he goes under the limbo pole.

Blast from the Past Day: All the way back to Pocahontas back to Native American apparel.

Amanda Robine (12) and Nate Anderson (12) partner up at the pep rally during the Senior football-cheerleading dance.

Powder Puff - The senior team dominated the juniors with a score of 46 to 0. Both teams trained hard with student coaches from the Varsity football team. "I don't think we could have done it without Thomas Leichti. Even though he is technically a junior, he was Senior to us," said Senior Kassey Wells.

Clash Day: Courtney Carlson (11) and Morgan McCann (11) show their lack of fashion for everyone's favorite dress-up day.

Homeroom Olympics - Once again, Burke added a new activity to spirit week: Homeroom Olympics. Each day of the week, homerooms had a new challenge. There was a hula-hoop contest, limbo, tropical jeopardy, and an obstacle course. Ms. Little's homeroom took "Home" the gold.

Homecoming:

Students got Lost in Paradise at homecoming this year. The theme and dance were a huge success. A free t-shirt came with the purchase of a ticket while supplies lasted.

Decorations:

"The decorations were amazing. I loved the 'Paradise' look," said Emely Capellan (9). The senior senate, student government, and any seniors who wanted to help, stayed after the homecoming game to help decorate for the dance. They stayed until the school kicked them out. They also decorated the morning of the dance.

Eating Out:

Most students went out to eat before the dance. Some popular restaurants were, Vincenzos, Chili's, TGIFridays, HuHot, Kona Grill, and Granite City. You could also find many students at Village Inn and IHOP after the dance.

Arsenic and Old Lace

by KRISTEN CAMACHE

Arsenic and Old Lace takes place in 1941 at two elderly women's, Abby and Martha Brewster, house. The Brewster sisters have always been the sweetest ladies you could think of. They raised their three nephews, Jonathan, an escape murderer; Mortimer, a frenzied theatre critic; and teddy, who thinks he's Teddy Roosevelt. The sisters operate a rooming house. These sweet women have a sense of "charity". They help lonely men out of there misery by serving them their very own home-made arsenic-laced elderberry wine. One night Mortimer finds out what his aunts have been doing.

With eleven victims and the twelve about to also be buried in the basement, Jonathan shows up. Years without seeing him, he brings along a victim of his own, as well as a his Dr. Einstien, who makes new faces for Jonathan. Mortimer struggles through the night to keep his aunts' secret, get Mortimer to get caught, protect his fiancee and keeping himself from going insane. The night ended with Jonathan going to jail, the Brewster sisters and Teddy going to a mental hospital, Dr. Einstein leaving, and Mortimer finding out he wasn't blood-related to the Brewsters and was able to be with his fiancee Elaine Harper.

Director's Note - "We have an incredibly talented group of young actors at Burke High School! They have all worked hard to make this a believable and entertaining performance for our audiences. Our technical crew have put in hours of time and hard work to create the set, lights, sounds, makeup, and props for this show."

Once Upon a Mattress

BY GABRI CLEMENTS

The Cast:

Prince:	Sean Meier	Minstrel:	Logan Steiner
Princess:	Kylee Wismont	Prince Dauntless:	Alex Solomon
Queen:	Molly Miller	Queen Aggravain:	Kaitlin Wakeman
Wizard:	Steve Catron	Lady Larken:	Amanda Michalski
Princess #12:	Laura Collins	Sir Studly:	Chuck Kim
Lady Rowena:	Rachel Klopp	King Sextimus the Silent:	Connor Bates
Lady Merrill:	Paulina Valderrabano	Jester:	Derek Thompson
Lady Lucille:	Amanda Fitch	Sir Harry:	Robby Stone
Lady Maybelle:	Natalie Huston	Princess Winnefred:	Fantashia Gates-Colbert
Servant/ Nightengale:	Abby Fletcher

"Once Upon a Mattress" is a musical based on the fairy tale "The Princess and the Pea." Prince Dauntless only wants to find a wife, but the evil Queen Aggravain made this almost impossible for the prince. When Sir Harry, the chivalrous knight, goes to the swamps to find a princess, he brings back Winnefred the Woebegone. When the Jester and the Minstrel find out what the test will be (a pea under stacked mattresses), they help to make sure that Princess "Fred" will pass. The King, the Jester, and the Minstrel place items such as chains and jousting equipment under Fred's mattress to make sure she will pass the test. The winter musical was a fun play full of endearing characters.

Favorites & Least Favorites:

Senior Alex Solomon:

"My favorite parts are getting to know and hang out with people I only see during the musicals. Plus I love to entertain people and we get to perform for a cornucopia of miscellaneous people."

Freshman Abby Fletcher:

"My favorite part of doing the musical is singing with a group of friends. It's great even though it's a lot of work."

Senior Fantashia Gates-Colbert:

"My least favorite part is when the show ends, because you're not able to do the musical anymore and the cast becomes your family."

One Act

Antisone

"Antigone" was a one act play that featured a strong woman, Antigone, overcoming the pressures and stresses of society to stand up for what she believed in. When Creon forbade the burial of Polyneices, his nephew and her brother, Antigone fought back. She believed that everyone deserves a proper burial, regardless of any disgrace.

Cast of Characters:

Antigone: Nicole Valderrabano	Chorus: Alli Fischenich
Creon: Connor Bates	Ellen Kresha
Creon's Aide: Ally Wolfe	Daniel Smejkal
Ismene: Jennifer Swenson	Christian Toledo
Guard: Luis Lomeli	Megan Quebedeaux
Teiresias: Steve Catron	Faushia Weeden
Haemon: Sean Meier

Life In the Fat Lane

The pageant host (James Myers) crowns Lara queen as cast members, Megan Friend and Ariel Ford cheer her on.

All photos by Mrs. Pigman

"Life In the Fat Lane" was a one act play about Lara Ardeche, a glamorous sixteen-year-old, who was envied by all, even her best friend. After developing a rash, she was required to take medication that caused her to rapidly gain weight. From this new perspective she saw her life in a new light and discovered inner beauty, as well as, who her real friends were.

Cast of Characters:

Lara Ardeche: Angie Escobar
 Molly Sheridan: Caleigh Schiffmann
 Karen O'Keefe: Marina Kasrel
 Jennie Smith: Julia Campbell
 Jett Anston: Derek Thompson
 Perry Jamison: Devin Price
 Max Cutler: Mason Reed
 Lara's Mother: Angie Chuda

Bright Lights Big City

BY MIKAYLA McLENNAN

Before prom girls spent all day getting ready, with hair, makeup, and nails to get done. Most guys, on the other hand, led a normal day before finally showering and quickly dressing for prom. Grant Hewitt said, "I didn't start getting ready till late in the day, I had track and went right back to bed."

The 2009 Prom theme was "Bright Lights, Big City". At the dance, they had glow sticks on the tables to bring the theme to life! Students felt as though they were at a club in the Big City. Seniors Mark Hewitt and Brianna Lovett were announced king and queen, while Nate Anderson and Anna Minnick were crowned prince and princess.

After Prom was held at Burke this year instead of renting an entertainment facility such as last year's "Thunder Alley". Spending Post Prom at Burke was a big hit from the hypnotist to bigger and better prizes given away in a drawing. The top prize winner was Rachael Falke (11) who won a Nintendo Wii. There was a blow up obstacle course and casino games, but students' favorite was "Mike the Hypnotist". Fifteen volunteer students did crazy things, which most actually remembered later even though they were unaware of what they were doing at the time.

Students agreed their 2009 Prom was the best ever!!

Preparing to Soar

For three years students had time to try and figure out what they wanted to do when they graduated. Now, as seniors it was crunch time. They had to figure out where they wanted to go and for many, it needed to be done by the January deadline.

Each year some of Burke's outstanding athletes received scholarships. This year was no different as several seniors signed letters of intent to colleges. Scholarships from well-known sports, such as, football, basketball, and baseball were given, however, scholarships were also given for tennis, track, X-country, and golf. Signings took place throughout the year as Burke athletes decided which colleges they would attend in the fall.

Back When...

College Signing - 2006

Nebraska universities were among the most popular colleges for Burke students. UNO is a favorite because it is still in town. UNK and UNL were about the same price, but students could get a bit further from home. Applying to a state university meant paying a fee, but payment of this fee was a one-time cost for all three "sister" universities; a fact some students took advantage of.

Burke had a number of students who ventured out of their comfort zones and traveled out of state for college. Many Burke students chose educational institutions in the Dakotas, Colorado, Kansas, Iowa and Missouri, sticking with the Midwest. "I am super excited to be going to Northwest Missouri State. Once I saw that it had the feel of a big school, but was relatively small, I was basically sold," said Stephanie Sisson (12). A few students found the need to get away irresistible and headed to the coasts.

Graduation

by GALLI CLEMENTS

The night the 2009 seniors had all been waiting for had finally arrived. On May 20th, seniors walked across the stage to receive their diplomas. The class of 2009 was finally graduating after hard work during four long years of high school and thirteen years of formal education.

The class of 2009 stuck together through many changes at Burke. They survived a year of change when switching from junior high to senior high school. The next year's change was getting their driver's licenses. Next they worked on independence and began preparations for college. Finally they survived "senioritis" as they strove for more personal freedom. Seniors endured an unforeseen change as they lived under stricter enforcement of rules by the new principal, Dr. Friesen.

Back When...

Burke had its first graduation in their own building - 1968

Seniors sat quietly and listened to speeches given by fellow students. Jasmine Voss, Mark Hewitt, Kristina Ward, Andrew Nguyen, and Elizabeth Lassiter were our elected speakers for the class of 2009. They spoke about following our "Dreams" (the class theme) and how we would succeed in life. They spoke in between choruses of "In My Dreams" sung by the Ensemble.

The 2009 Valedictorian was Kristina Ward and the Salutatorian was Alec Agan. Their hard work and perseverance earned them these honors in an academically competitive class. The Junior class representatives, in white caps and gowns, were David Olney and Anne Prauner. They were possible candidates for the top honors in the class of 2010.

Back when...
Cameron Gilinsky

Q: What's your favorite tradition from childhood?
A: Fighting my brothers and inevitably getting the crap kicked out of me.

Q: Are there any random facts about you that you'd like to share?
A: I play guitar, bass, and piano. I'm the master at ultimate frisbee and being Jewish. Also, I have an unnatural car obsession.
Q: What is something a lot of people don't know about you?
A: I'm actually a good driver despite the large quantity of stupid things I've done behind the wheel.

Sophisticated Sophomores

Q: What's been your most embarrassing moment of your sophomore year?
A: Attempting to jump over a trash can in Chemistry and failing miserably.

Q: What's your favorite and least favorite thing about living in Nebraska?
A: Favorite: All my friends live here. Least favorite: It's always either too cold or too hot.
Q: If you could go anywhere in the world, where would you go?
A: New Zealand.

Back When...

Q: What's your favorite tradition from childhood?
A: Valentine's Day dinner with my family.

Now...

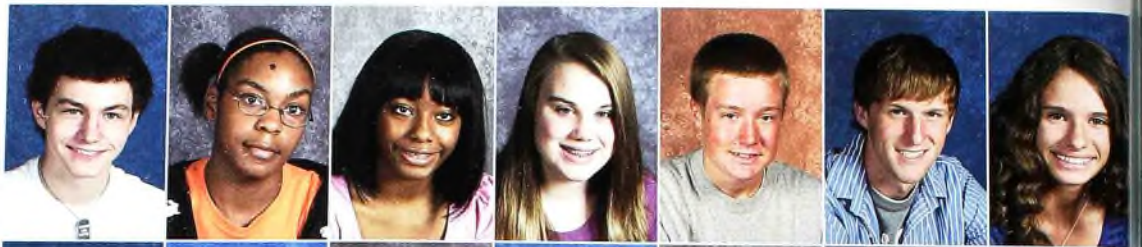

Q: What's your favorite and least favorite thing about living in Nebraska?
A: Favorite: The people. Least favorite: The cold.
Q: If you could go anywhere in the world, where would you go?
A: Probably Italy.

Q: Are there any random facts about you that you'd like to share?
A: I hate, hate, hate feet and I can't stand things being around my neck.
Q: What is something a lot of people don't know about you?
A: My sister is my best friend.

Q: What's been your most embarrassing moment of your sophomore year?
A: Being de-pantsed in front of my soccer coach.

Stephanie Sisson [12]

"I love wearing dresses and cute tank tops under jackets. I wear things like that because it's comfortable and cute all at the same time!"

Jennifer Guernero [9]

"I've always loved fashion and liked the way it looks. My favorite store to shop at is Wet Seal."

2009 was a trendy year in fashion. Burke students could be found sporting the latest trends. Many girls found dresses to be the most comfortable item of clothing to wear, while others settled on jeans and a t-shirt. Some girls preferred wearing sweats to dressing up. Big accessories were also in.

Alli Fischenich [10]

"My favorite item of clothing to wear is a dress because they're super comfy but cute and girly at the same time."

Amie Long [11]

"My favorite trend was skinny jeans because they make a casual outfit look cute! I love wearing scarves and bangles!"

"My favorite trend this year was hightop shoes because they look sweet with everything. My favorite item of clothing to wear was my Daffy Duck tie. It was a conversation starter."

Paul Mann [10]

"I just pull anything out of the closet so I look fresh!"

Joey Robbins [12]

Most guys preferred comfort to fashion. Cargo shorts were very popular with the guys at Burke. Male fashion usually consisted of jeans and a t-shirt. When guys dressed up, they usually chose a collared shirt and tie. Whether they enjoyed dressing up or dressing down, most guys had their own personal style.

Connor Bates [11]

Ben Minnick [9]

"My favorite trend this year was sweater vests. I think a sweater vest is a nice way to say, 'I'm friendly, and I'm here to party.'"

"I like wearing my lanyard because it has all my keys. It represents me."

Q & A

Q: What college are you going to next year and why?

A: "I plan on going to UNO and majoring in Elementary Education. I have family that attended UNO and they offer great programs."

Q: What was your favorite part of being a senior?

A: "Being at the top, but isn't that everyone's? Oh, and having practically no homework!"

Q: What clubs and activities did you participate in throughout high school?

A: "Musicals and plays, FEA, key club, random acts of kindness club, senior senate, student government, NHS, and Spanish NHS."

Q: What is your favorite and least favorite food?

A: "Lunch-wise my favorite is burritos. Otherwise a burger and fries is something I could eat everyday! My least favorite school lunch is beef cutlet, pork tenderloin, and chicken patty. They all seem like the same food to me!"

Q: What are you most and least excited for in the next few years?

A: "Oh, I'm not sure. I'd like to say I'm excited for college, because I'm sure most people are, but I don't think I'm ready for the transition yet! I'm worried that I'm going to figure out, after all of my experience that I don't want to be a teacher. Then I'd just be lost!"

Q: What advice would you like to give high school students?

A: "Stay involved in something. Have a wide variety of friends and don't care about what other people think about you. Chances are, you won't see them after senior year!"

Q: Where would you like to vacation this summer?

A: "Somewhere out of the country, but that won't happen, so how about an amusement park?"

Q: What has been your best memory in high school?

A: "The musicals! I love meeting new people. Being involved in something is the best way to do it!"

Q: What was your favorite thing to do the weekend?

A: "Swing dancing! It beats sitting at a friend's house and watching a movie any Friday night!"

THE DORLES

WE HAVE THE SPIRIT

Cheerleading

love dancing and I love that it's like a sisterhood."

- Cyre Cross (10) Drill Team

Cheerleading went through major changes this year. They got a new coach, who was also having a baby! A bigger change was re-grouping the squads by getting rid of the reserves. This made try-outs more competitive and the girls had to stay focused to make JV and Varsity. At cheer camp every girl competed against different schools from all over the United States. It was also a bonding time for each squad. With all the new faces on Burke's squads, getting to know your team and learning each other's strengths was especially important.

The pom squad worked all summer long and they also went to camp for conditioning. The Pom girls practiced after school every day except for Fridays. On Fridays they performed the halftime show at home Varsity football games. Before every home football game the girls had a team dinner. The Pom Squad also switched off with the Drill Team, dancing at boys and girls basketball games. This year the team went to three competitions and at the end of February they attended State in Grand Island, Nebraska.

Drill team stays busy during the winter season. They prepare for their routines by meeting four days a week after school. They use practice to make things perfect. The senior team members create the routines and help junior members learn them, making this a very close-knit group.

BACK WHEN

Jake Marousek (12) and Bo Adams (12) picked the North game as their favorite win since they hadn't beaten North in a while. Marousek said, "Beating North for the first time in 3 years really showed how much we improved." All of the coaches agreed that the senior class had really proven themselves and led the way for all of the up-coming JV and Freshman players. The team motto for the year showed that improving everyone as individuals was more important than winning or losing.

THE PROCESS

BY CECY BERTRAND

IS MORE IMPORTANT THAN THE OUTCOME

The football team motto this year was "The process is more important than the outcome." Those words inspired these teams to work hard and focus on the little things. The outcome was that the football teams took a giant step forward from their previous three seasons. The Varsity was undefeated in the first three games of the season! They had two losses next, but won-out the rest of the regular season. Their record of 7-2 got them into the playoffs. The season ended with a loss to Bellevue West in a very close match-up which went right up to the final minutes of the game.

Varsity quarterback Jimmy
 (10) warms his arm
 before going in.

The Junior Varsity football players went above and beyond in everything they did this season. They stayed after practice, gave 110 percent every game, and refused to give up even when the odds were against them. The JV team always played at their highest level. They had close games and played better than their 4-4 record showed.

Freshman team kicker Andrew Coppa (9) makes good use of his foot, delivering the ball downfield.

What do the coaches and players have to say? A favorite expression of Coach Olafson's was, "Boy's, this ain't middle school!" He said this to motivate his freshman team at times, and they sure responded, proving that they were ready for the high school level of play. They were so ready in fact that these Bulldogs went the entire season undefeated! All coaches were impressed by this most difficult accomplishment!

FEAR NO ONE RESPECT EVERYONE

BY IRENE HORROU

Every time a challenge presented itself, the team walked out with their game faces on and played to the best of their ability. Our Varsity team ended the season with twelve wins and fourteen losses. The players all seem to agree that there is room for improvement but they are satisfied with how the season turned out. Although the team had injuries to their key players, they did the best with what they were handed.

Our JV team ended the season 8-6. When the players were asked what they would rate this season most of them responded with a seven. "We played well, but most of our losses were from us beating ourselves, however, when the team came together we played really well," said Katie Soukup (9).

Coach Hughes felt that our softball team this year had an overall higher level of experience but they could have used the drive they had from last year. The team played up to five games a week depending on weather they only had a couple practices during a week. Everyone was in agreement that the team bonding activities and team dinners were two of the most enjoyable things during the season... other than winning!

Cross Country

TO THE LIMIT

BY ALEX LOTH

Cross-Country training began as soon as summer vacation started and varied from 200 meter speed workouts to 12 mile runs. The dedication of the boys and girls really defined their season. At the Burke Invitational, both the girls and boys placed 2nd. At Central the girls took 1st place and the guys picked up another 2nd place. But the high point of the season was when the boys took 1st at the Creighton Prep Invite. This was the guys' first win in 20 years.

The boys cross-country coaches, Mike Mingo and Jim Kealy, couldn't have been more pleased with the season. Mingo stated, "I have to thank all the athletes for the best season that Burke has had in 20 years! They were a special group of guys that worked hard and gave their all in order for this to happen! Absolutely a great season!"

"My definition of cross-country is working hard, eating goldfish, and having a good time," says Emily Moore (9). Moore finished the season as the top girls runner.

New Season, New Coaches!

The volleyball team added three new coaches to the staff this year. Lindsey Mohan, Lindsey Grant, and Varsity head coach, John Svehla. Ali Jansen (11) stated, "The team seemed to have more respect for the coaching staff this year." The season obviously gave players a fresh perspective with the new coaching staff.

The Junior Varsity team welcomed Lindsey Mohan as the new coach. Their record was 16-10. Regarding the season, Coach Mohan said, "We have made great strides!" The 2009 winning season proved what a successful year the JV team had.

The Freshman team had a 12-9 record. They took first in the OPS tournament. Coach Mohr said, "Winning the OPS tournament was a great success and really showed everyone what the Burke Freshman team is all about!"

FOUNDATIONS

Varsity:

The girls basketball team put a lot of effort into their season and certainly played their best. They had a goal to have fun and always work to win. To get to that point, they were at they had to practice many drills. These included the scramble drill which was Coach Tom Lee's favorite. For a little fun the Varsity girls would hold a dinner before each game at one of the girls' homes. One day they changed it up and ate out at Applebees. Veteran player, Kelsey Lane stated, "Plying ball four years at Burke has made me a stronger person. I've learned a lot about myself and made lasting friendships." The Varsity season ended with a 6-12 record.

Reserve & JV player, Emma Hansen (10), said, "It is important to lose with pride. We play because we love the game."

This season the JV girls ended with a record of 7-11. They worked hard at practice and put in hours of dedicated work in order to be ready. The girls ran a variety of drills so they would be ready for the challenges other teams would bring. The relationships that developed lasted on and off the court.

Reserve and Freshmen:

The Reserve team had a 3-8 record and the freshmen ended their season with a record of 5-13. Coach Harvey Miles said that his favorite games for Reserve were the games against Westside when they went into overtime and beat them by 25 points. During the season these girls showed real bright spots and brought hidden talents to the forefront.

BY JESSICA BODROUSHI

Varsity:

The boys Varsity basketball team had a winning season of 13 wins and 9 losses. Overall they ranked tenth in the state. The team worked very hard to improve their ball-handling, guarding, and shooting skills. They planned on going to State all season, but lost against Lincoln East by 3 points in overtime at Districts. Senior Nate Anderson said, "Throughout the season we became closer as a team which helped us a lot on the court."

JV:

The JV team had a record of 10 wins and 10 losses. Sophomore Connor Kebeby said, "When the team started getting closer as the season went on our games got a lot better." The JV boys played in the holiday tournament and finished in 3rd place. This team certainly used their early losses to figure out what improvements they needed to make for the next game.

Reserve:

The Reserve team's record was 7 wins and 9 losses. They played hard all season and improved throughout it. The team worked through some struggles but finished well. "I became a better player mentally in the different situations we faced," stated Reserve & JV player, Capri Davis (10).

Coach:

The Freshmen A & B teams played hard all season. It was always tough getting used to playing with a new group of players, but after a few games the teams got used, figuring out what it took to win. The Freshman "A" team had 7 wins and 9 losses while the Freshman "B" team had 6 wins and 9 losses. Elliot Kanne said, "I would definitely recommend going out for the Freshman basketball team. It's your freshman year, try everything you can."

MAKING A PLAYOFF

BY FRIENDS HORROR

anything about swimming excited you, you were likely to fit in with the Burke swim team. Energetic attitudes and great team spirit made swimming an enticing sport to watch. Whether they won or lost a meet, the teams' sportsmanship was never damaged and that made the Burke boys and girls teams great.

Time seemed to pass in a flash, but not for the swimmers. Early morning practices could be long and difficult. However, that didn't stop the boys and girls from taking time to build team bonding. One tradition that remained alive and well was T.P.ing swimmers' homes. The girls and guys drove all over town "decorating" each other's lawns and having fun!

All swimmers on the Burke team had a great time swimming and racing this year. They won half of their meets and became a close group of friends in the process. This year they won the Burke Invite, something the school was very proud of. "My favorite thing about this season was the Metro meet, it was fun to cheer everyone on," said Lauryn Young (9).

The boys team also had a great season with many of them qualifying for the Metro. They gave it their all at meets and competitions, placing seventh at the Metro, improving their performances overall. Brad Werthman (12) said, "Coming a NISCA was my favorite part of the season, but making more friends and getting in shape was good too."

TO THE MAT

BY KRISCY WELLS

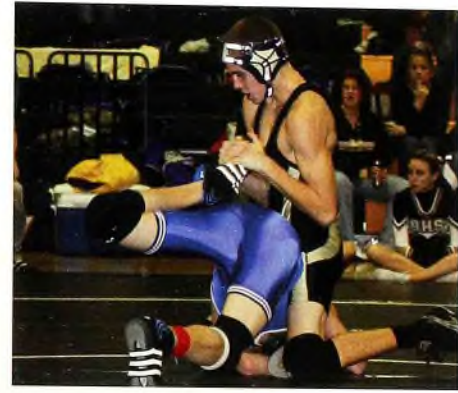

The three wrestling teams: Freshman, Junior Varsity, and Varsity, all had a very productive year. The goals of most wrestlers were to win their weight and get a letter. To letter you had to be on Varsity, wrestle all year, and have a good record. You could also letter for showing "extraordinary commitment," according to Miles Adams (12).

The Varsity team had two coaches: Coach Wes Boehm and Coach Kris Kahlandt. The wrestlers agreed that they wouldn't be anywhere without these two. This year Burke had a surprise addition as former wrestler and 2007 graduate, Chris Mack, came back to help with technique of the wrestlers. "He is kind of a 'get to the point' kind of coach, but he helps a lot," said Brent Curtis (9).

It was a pretty special year for Burke as we had eleven state qualifiers. Students from all over Nebraska missed school on Thursday and Friday to go and cheer on their friends at State. The tournament lasted three days, with the Burke team finishing overall 6th, and Alex Bridgeford (12) winning State in his weight class.

FIELD TRACK

BY ALEXIS ROGERS

It was Springtime so the girls put on their running shoes and hit the track. The girls achieved an overall winning season in '09. Varsity placed 1st at the Fremont Invite. Whether they placed first in an invite or not, they worked together. It was obvious that the girls adopted the motto, "One for all and all for one!"

The look of concentration on Heidi Hansens (12) face is evident as she clears the high jump.

Though there were a large number of girls in track, the team still held dinners before meets. These social events helped teammates bond on and off the field. Varsity and JV sometimes had different meets, however, they practiced and were coached together. Like other sports, these girls specialize in an area of track and become the best at it. Within relay teams and other specialized events, girls learned to rely on one another for support and success.

PERFECT

BY TAYLOR ELBERSON

The boys track team set major records and personal bests this year, and surely Coach Kealy's hard practices had something to do with it! "They're tough, but they make you better and faster!" said Matt Holst (12), who during the season had the fastest 400 meter time in the state. Practices may have been difficult and stressful, but they definitely paid off in the "long run!"

Most of the guys admitted their favorite thing about track was the camaraderie they enjoyed during practices and meets. Even Coach Mingo loved spending time with the guys outside of the classroom. "I like to learn more about what makes a person tick!" said Mingo.

THE GOAL

BY CASEY BERTRAND

The Varsity girls were a unique blend of some very talented freshmen and seniors. The girls felt like a family: eating meals together, practicing together, winning together, and losing together. Jordan Pfeiffer (12) had this to say about her team, "We are a really strong team and all the things we go through as a team makes us work together. It overall makes us into a better and stronger team, and in the end, it also teaches us some discipline." The season ended with a record of 9-7.

As Shelly Stolinski (11) said, "A lot of the freshman are really good and they give a lot of the older players a run for their money." However, many players felt that Coach Shroder was the real reason why the team was successful. They finished their season with a record of 8-3.

What I like about playing soccer at Burke is the people I play with, the competition, and the coaching staff," stated Varsity fielder Max Saferstein-Hansen. The varsity team held a team meeting the night before every game to promote friendship and bonding.

The JV team had a promising season. They finished with a record of 6-3-3. The team had a lot of fun together. "I like playing Burke soccer because we have the freedom to play soccer to get to the next level, and we all get along like a real team," said JV player Erick Ramirez-Reyes (10).

The varsity soccer team's goal this season was to be competitive in every game. The team worked hard and achieved a record of 9-7. They won the District championship against Westside in overtime. "I enjoy coaching Burke soccer because I get to teach life lessons through sport. I also enjoy the excitement of competition," said Coach Bratt. This was Bratt's second year coaching soccer at Burke.

BASEBALL

BY MIKE LAUCKENNE

In June, Nebraska had a major wind storm that destroyed many things around Omaha, including our Burke baseball field. The Burke Bulldog players, parents, and fans made the field look like new again. They spent much of the summer redoing the field and building new dug outs. With all that activity, they finished right in time for the baseball season to start. Mike Siwa (11) said his favorite field to play on was "the new and improved Burke baseball field." All Burke fans agreed with him!

This year's Varsity team had a 500 season with a record of 10-10. They lost a District game against Papio South, however, which kept them from qualifying for State. After a good season the Bulldogs had put their hearts and souls into each game. As usual in Nebraska, there were quite a few rainouts during the season. The players felt that 75 degrees and sunny was definitely the right weather for playing ball.

The Reserve and Junior Varsity held wonderful records this year, winning more than losing. The Reserve team record was 8-6, and JV finished with a record of 12-10. Dillon Plath (10) led the JV team in batting average, as the lead off batter. Freshmen Jordan Groebli, Andrew Truckenbrod, and Brett DeJong were stand-out Reserve pitchers. The coaching staff felt Burke had a bright baseball future with the talent coming up from the JV and Reserve teams. Brett DeJong said what a lot of Reserve players felt, "This was a great first season with Burke!"

The girls finished in the top 50% of all their tournaments this season. Once again, the team was lead by senior Lindsay Weideman who has been Burke's performance leader for three solid years. Everyone improved and worked together to make a successful season. One thing everyone agreed on was that they all golfed their hardest and did their best, representing Burke with pride.

Lindsay Phillip (10) says, "This year our team played very well. We will miss the seniors, but hopefully next year Burke will take State!"

When asked what his favorite thing about coaching was, Coach Seitz stated, "The satisfaction of teaching younger recreational players to be more experienced, competitive golfers."

Jackson Withrow (10) won State again this year in singles! This was his second year in a row to win the ho Jackson also played doubles with partners Matt Hrdlicka or Moritz Mestwerdt. In doubles, they had a 4 record, but the truly amazing record was in singles where Withrow went 31 - 0!

Child development was a class which covered children's intelligence, their physical, emotional, and social growth and their development from birth to 5 years of age. This year was the first year child development 3-4 was offered. This course explored careers that involve working with children and infants in a daycare setting.

Foods

English— Each grade had a different level of English. They covered many activities which included reading, writing and the dreaded grammar. Brianna Lovett (12) said, "Writing is my favorite thing to do in English, especially in Miss Benne's class!" With every year, more was expected of English students... more novels, more depth, or a new type of emphasis in writing. Juniors and Seniors could take AP English classes to help prepare them for college. Senior AP helped students write many of the essays that would be sent in with college applications and scholarship submissions.

Other Electives— This year Burke added a new class, The Study of Rock and Roll. This class was taught by Mrs. Sullivan, who felt that she and the students were exploring the subject and learning together. Some other options for English lovers were Word Study, Composition, and Creative Writing.

ESL is a very important resource that many foreign students enroll in. They have an opportunity to further their English language skills under a less stressful environment. This year the Joslyn Museum donated pieces of art to be displayed in the ESL section of the library.

French has become a very popular subject to take. The teachers are very helpful to students when learning a new language. French students had an opportunity to travel to France during the summer of 2009. They used the school year to prepare and fund raise for their exciting trip! "J'adore French!" said Rachel Prentiss (11), "This is an awesome class and Ms. Rotherham is a great teacher."

Chinese is the newest language at Burke. A lot of students have opted to take Chinese because it is something new. Students used repetition, repetition, repetition in order to get their pronunciation correct. In the Chinese language there are sounds that English speakers have never had to use.

Spanish speakers in America are becoming more and more familiar, making this foreign language a benefit in the business world. Heather Moore (10) said, "Si Se Puede!" (Which means, "Yes you can!") This quote is commonly used by their teacher, Mr. Hamilton. Teachers use fun activities to help students become more at ease with Spanish. Some of the games include basketball, honeycomb, and flashcard games for test reviews.

German is another option to take here at Burke. It's a challenge to pass this class, even if you're a dedicated student. German is a useful language considering quite a few German citizens live in the U.S. There was a German Association right down the street from Burke, which just goes to show how useful learning a second language can be.

P.E. was not something some kids looked forward to. Getting all sweaty and changing back into your nice clothes to go on with the rest of your day wasn't many students idea of a good time. But P.E. had its importance, and that was to teach kids to stay healthy. That lesson was more important than any complaint. "If you don't take care of your body, then where will you live?" asked P.E. teacher Ms. Hughes. Another Hughes quote was, "Gym, it's where its at, not what its called!"

To most of the kids at Burke, math was considered one of the hardest classes. Many students wished that they would not have to take math, but even more said that they needed math because they used it in everyday life. No matter what the level of the math class, there was always work to be done. Students found math tests to be difficult, but knew that completing their daily assignments could offset poor test grades. Then this is the moment when our teachers come in and help us out.

What teachers mostly get out of teaching the kids is the sense of satisfaction of seeing the student finally understanding what is going on. Sometimes the teachers may get frustrated or a little displeased but they are always willing to work with the students in order to increase their success. P.E.E.P.S. (Popcorn Eating Encourages Prepared Students) was an after-school gathering where students could do homework, eat popcorn, and get help. Many math instructors made it a point to attend so they could give more one-on-one instruction to students.

Danielle Cotton (10) and a classmate participate in Geometry by writing math problems on the board.

Honors classes moved at a fast pace, covering the subject in a shorter amount of time and in more depth. Just like regular math, assignments tended to be given out everyday for homework, but in honors the assignments were often longer or much more involved. AP classes were also offered at Burke. Students who took AP math could pay a fee to take a test. Students who passed would have their required college math taken care of and could immediately work on credits for their majors.

Math

"As a candy, math would be like jelly beans because there are so many kinds and a lot of them are gross!"
-Anna Reed (12)

"If math was any type of candy it would be chocolate covered raisins. They taste bad, but they're good for you."
-Eric Hill (11)

"Math is something that is used every day. I wouldn't want to get rid of it just because I don't like it."
-Ben Joekel (10)

"My worst experience in math would be getting so far behind and not understanding the lesson."
-Andrea Straub (9)

Back With The Music

BY LEXI GOODMAN

This year was a big year in Burke's music department. Marching band received a superior rating at the Nebraska State Marching Competition along with Drumline and Flag Team. Mr. Edwards and Mr. Spath had high hopes for the band next year. As always, marching band was a big hit during halftime at football games. Drum majors, Bethany Loux (11) and Christensen (12), kept the band on tempo during performances and competitions.

Concert choir had an opportunity to sing at the Holland Performing Arts Center, where they also performed for a Christmas program. Jazz combos and a percussion ensemble were also formed for jazz band.

Physics Ski Trip

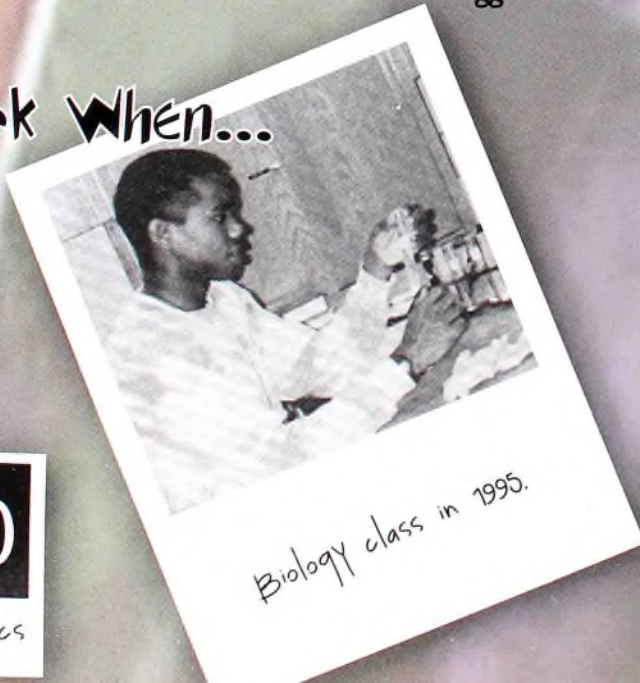

What could be better than going skiing for Physics? Students in Mr. Manley's Honors and AP classes went to Mt. Crescent in Iowa to learn the physics of skiing. Mr. Manley said, "My favorite part was seeing so many students have such a fun time; especially the students who had never been skiing." However, they didn't just ski, they did physics too! The students did simple experiments to determine their acceleration down the hill.

Science Fun!

Celebrating Mole Day was a new experiment in AP Science classes. The word Mole comes from the molecular weight of a substance. This year AP Science instructors hosted a competition in golf, football, and many other Mole-events for the first ever "Mole-lympics."

Biology hosted "Darwin Day" which commemorates the birth of Darwin. This year was the 200th birthday of the evolutionist. Competitive events included "Toss the Bird at Galapagos" and "Survival of the Fittest 3-legged Race."

Teacher Cadet: The class explored the field of teaching through textbook work, lectures and field experiences. The class interacted with elementary schools. They went on field trips and participated in activities sponsored by different elementary schools. The students also shadowed teachers. They got to enjoy free student teaching and see if this was the career they really wanted.

Athletic Training: This academy learned about different injuries that can occur during physical activities and how to treat them. They also learned about the bones, muscles, and ligaments in the body. They helped with after school games and practices, wrapping up any injured players. "It's a hands on class and we get bagels with our study time!" said Payton Gaines. (10)

They had activities that were meant to teach them leadership and other life skills. Several local leaders of the community came to speak to the students. Two speakers the students were lucky enough to have visit were Superintendent Mackiel and Senator Bob Dole. Lieutenant Flagg stated, "This was an outstanding group of students who were very willing to learn."

ACE: "We get to design, build, and break things. What more could you ask for?" said Mr. Hoy, the ACE teacher. This class worked with different fields of engineering. They built model homes, sheds, boomerangs, wind generators, and more. They made designs on computers and made blue prints before building their projects. DECA offered a few unique things other clubs didn't. They went on trips to learn about leadership, they competed at conferences, and this year 17 students visited New York City. Amie Long (11) stated, "I got to ask a question to Martha on the Martha Stewart Show! I asked her, 'Why do we have morning breath?' I liked all the shopping we did, too."

DECA members also traveled to Kansas City for a leadership conference. Schools from all over the Midwest attended. A variety of interesting workshops, a dance, and motivational speakers made this trip one to remember forever.

The Art of Fun

Art Club

Elena Becerril enjoyed art club because she could "meet people who shared the same common interests!" A highlight in the art club year was the Art Olympics. This competition included a palette toss, paint brush toss, and group drawing extravaganza. A typical club meeting included, creating and discovering new ways to make art, where students could creatively express themselves... without the worry of grades and teacher expectations!

Book Club

"I love to READ!" was the whole idea behind the Book Club. Students in this club loved great stories told by excellent authors. Michele Rosenthal said, "I love being able to read a variety of books that I normally would not read." The other main idea behind any book club was the discussion of thoughts and feelings after completing sections of the novels. All kinds of interesting facts and new ideas came to light as students found out what other kids and adults thought of the book!

Lights! Camera! Action! was what Drama Club was all about. Students played theater games and went on several outings. Holiday celebrations and going to plays were special activities. The highlight of their year was going to see the Broadway show "Wicked" when it came to Omaha! Hanging out with old friends, making new ones, and the freedom to express themselves kept members coming back for more! Emerald Porter said, "I like to give a comical edge to the meetings."

Using Our Brains

Writing Club

Writing club was a lot different from what one might think it would be. Members all agreed that they joined Writing Club because they all loved to write. Rachel Klopp said, "Without Mrs. Wagner, we would be lost." Mrs. Wagner, the sponsor, brought joy, organization, and excitement about writing to the club. They had many activities during the school year, including different units to express their writing strengths such as poetry, short stories, and nonfiction. This club also competed at various poetry slams. Close to the end of the year the club also published its magazine called "Fresh Ink" which included writing from club members and from other students and staff. "The biggest joy I get from reading is seeing it finished at the end," Will Kois (10) stated.

Risk Club

Risk Club's main purpose was just to have some fun while playing the board game Risk. Risk was a board game using strategy to take over the world. Joe Blecha (10) joined the club just because Mr. Deardoff was in charge. Founding members of this club were Mike Bristol (12) and Mike Coonfield (10). They used their friendship as an alliance and a strategy. "I play Risk with my friends all the time, so I thought a Risk Club would be great," Mike Bristol stated. This club met whenever Mr. Deardoff was available. They kept track of wins and at the end of the year, people with the highest points were seated at the same table to compete against one another. Students listened to music over Mr. Deardoff's speakers and brought snacks and pop. Everyone agreed that the most exciting thing about the club was dominating the world.

Standing for something

If you were into science, then science club was the place for you to be after school. Science club members participated in many labs that the science classes didn't have time to get to. Katie Bidne (10) said, "I enjoy attending science club because it relieves my stress from bad school days." Members participated in various competitions throughout the year. Some of them included Science Olympiad, Science Bowl, Quiz Bowl, and Doane College Physics Olympics. Kaley Martinie (9) stated, "My favorite part of being in science club is learning new theories and ideas. Even though it seems geeky, we are all friends and have a lot of fun." This club was certainly a great place to practice science skills.

STAND included a dedicated sponsor, Ms. McNair, and an equally dedicated group of students who wanted to help raise awareness about the on-going genocides around the world, such as the one in Darfur, Sudan. The group placed an emphasis on the mass-murders in Darfur and most fundraising went to this area of the world. The club made t-shirts that read, "If you don't STAND for something, you'll fall for anything," to help support the victims of genocide. Mariah Collins stated, "I have learned a lot and enjoy donating. I like trying to make a difference." STAND worked alongside Project Peace, the diversity club, to bring the Burke student body not only into awareness, but also into ACTION.

Time/Devotion Pays Off

by MIRANDA MORROW

Academic Decathlon students were some of the most devoted at Burke. They spent two to three hours a day after school and even practiced on Saturdays. As the year progressed, they met on Sundays, as well as, over breaks. They attend scrimmages and competitions, trying to progress and earn high enough scores to move on. The students said their favorite part was competing, learning, and building team friendships. Robert Dooling, a senior on the team said, "My favorite part is watching team members win medals because it is the culmination of endless hours spent studying."

Mock Trial students also spent much of their time studying and preparing for their trials. It was a lot of additional work to have added to homework. These students practiced after school brushing up on their knowledge of law and learning new strategies to argue their cases. Their goal was to follow in last years' footsteps as State champs, unfortunately the Mock Trial season ended too soon.

Key Club members were all about helping the community. They volunteered for Habitat for Humanity, Waterford Assisted Living, the Special Olympics, and other places around Omaha. "I was looking for ways to be involved in a group at school who shared interests and opinions like mine," said President Anahi Salazar. Some of the most enjoyable activities for Key Club members were painting a house for a family in need and putting computers together for schools in Uganda.

Random Acts of Kindness was busy again this year with "helping" activities. In order to "help" Burke students become more aware of kindness they placed suggestions in the bulletin, such as take out the trash or do the dishes. RAK members also held fundraisers and volunteered in the Burke community. One "helpful" activity was aiding the Rockstars as they created art for Childrens Hospital. "I feel very privileged to be cosponsor of the RAK club with Judy Flint. We have the opportunity to meet students we would not meet otherwise," said sponsor Ms. M.

During a week in second semester, there were signs saying "Place for Hate" and "Mix it UP." Diversity Week was sponsored by Project Peace. They stood for accepting differences and equality for all. The club brought Karl Wilkins to Burke for an assembly. He was the only American to stay in Rwanda during the genocide in 1994. John Herse, Club President, arranged for Wilkins to come and speak to the students about the effects of genocide has on everyone. "Seeing him just made it so much more surreal than we could have imagined," said Alex Davis (12) after viewing Wilkins' presentation. Project Peace also sponsored DEEW week in late March. Diversity - Equality and Education Week was a city wide event focused on the "ism's": racism, sexism, and ageism, among other

Spanish Club

Spanish club and SNHS were very active clubs at Burke. During the holidays SNHS went bell ringing. In Spanish club, students enjoyed learning traditional dances and making food, like homemade tortillas. Kendra Barnes (12) enjoyed going to Spanish club because you "learn about Spanish culture by doing things, not just by learning from a book."

Back When...

The Spanish club celebrates homecoming in 1996.

French Club

The French Club and FNHS groups were also a very busy. French Club and FNHS sponsored National French week, where students could learn a simple phrase in French and win a piece of candy. They also had a progressive dinner where members traveled from house to house, sampling French-inspired foods.

German club members enjoy German feast during Burke own Oktoberfest.

International Club

As a new club to Burke, the International club was very well liked. Students enjoyed learning about various cultures from around the world. They sampled cuisines, learned dances, and even helped one another with their English. This club sold t-shirts with their motto: "If you see yourself in others, who can you hurt?"

German Club

German Club was a popular club to attend. Students enjoyed going to this club because they learned authentic dances and sampled authentic German foods. Oktoberfest was certainly a popular festival in many and the students loved participating in the celebration here in Omaha, Nebraska.

Gamelas,

Aun` recuerdo esa inmensa alegria que en mi pecho no cabia, cuando por primera vez, vi sus pequeños cuerpecitos envueltos en una sabanita color rosado.

Asi al contemplar mis pequeñas muñequitas no pude contenerme, la emocion` embargo mi pecho y llore de alegria.

Recuerdo que admiraba hasta su mas` ruidoso llanto, para mi era como un encanto, ese encanto que solo se siente al dar a luz a un hijo.

Entre felicidad, llanto y alegrías. Transcurrieron los años y tuve la dicha de escuchar sus primeras palabras y vi con orgullo sus primeros pasos.

Tambien` recuerdo que escuchaba con infinita alegria esas sonrisas.

Esas sonrisas bellas y cristalina que para mis oidos eran como una bella melodía`.

Recuerdo tambien` cuando por primera vez las lleve al colegio y en sus pequeños rostros se dibujaba el amor. Las mire a los ojos y les enseñe que no habia nada que temer y ahí` se quedaron quietecitas entre juegos de niñas, entre risas y llantos. Las vi crecer con mucho encanto.

Ahora me siento tan orgullosa de ustedes y acabo de darle gracias a mi Padre Dios por haberme dado el regalo mas` bello en la vida que son ustedes bebes de mi corazón`.

Gracias hijas mias por llenar de alegria mi vida porque desde que ustedes llegaron a mi vida ne me llenaron de felicidad mis lindas princesitas.

Gracias por ser buenas hijas que Dios me las bendiga, protega y las guie hoy y siempre.

Suerte bebes` y no olviden que la verdadera belleza siempre esta` en nuestro corazón`.

Gracias tambien` por estar ahí` y gracias por existir.

Las amo con toda mi corazón` mis pequeñas niñas.

Su mamá`.

We Were... Your 2009 Yearbook Staff

IN THE BEGINNING...

The year 2009 was the end of a decade, the end of a school year, and the end of high school for the members of the graduating class. Looking "Back When..." was more than just a fun way to view our year's experience, it was also a new perspective! One day 2009 would just be another year "Back When..." But for us "Now..." it was just the beginning!

NOW...

AT THE END...

School is out! - 2009

BACK WHEN...

Students wave from the Burke float - 1985

The yearbook staff would like to thank our publisher, Walsworth Publishing Co., Mike Diffenderfer, our sales rep, and Life-Touch Photography, our photographers for mug shots and most athletic group photos. There were 750 books sold for $55.00 (at registration) and $60.00 afterwards. Advertisements ranged from $50.00 for an eighth of a page to $200.00 for a full page. The fonts used were FairchildBold for articles, Luna for captions, and headlines changed in each division. Student Life headlines were in BellBottom, People was Billow, Sports used Echo Deco, Academics were in Ren & Stimpy, and Activities used El&Font. Layouts were selected by this year's senior editor, Calli Clements. The staff photographer was Casey Bertrand and the sponsor was Ms. Kroenke. All staff created pages, placed photos, wrote text, and chose colors for their pages.

Burke - Class of 2009

...another decade ends
